

Andrea Ravizza

Born in Turin in 1971. After an initial period of intense activity as an arranger and facility-studio owner, I studied Composition and graduated cum laude at the G. Verdi Conservatory in Turin. Then I took the Master's Degree in composition with summa cum laude and honors at the G. Verdi Conservatory in Turin with G. C. Taccani.

In addition to teaching Music Theory at the Conservatory in Reggio Calabria and Virtual Orchestration at the Conservatory in Turin, I am currently composing and arranging for symphonic orchestra, ensemble, wind orchestra, big band and vocal ensemble. I wrote music for radio and television broadcasts, multimedia events, jingles and advertising. I have worked in hundreds of concerts, as arranger, composer or conductor.

I attended masterclasses with I. Fedele, M. Lanza, L. Shambadal, G. Vessicchio, A. Colla, L. Gorli, A. Di Scipio. I studied furthermore organ with G. Donati, piano with G. Guida, electronic music with A. Agostini e D. Ghisi, arrangement with P. Pia, G. Gazzani ed E. Ruffinengo.

From 1997 to 2008 I was co-owner of A&A Recordings, a recording studio and a Musical Publishing House based in Turin, Italy. In this role I have edited dozens of musical productions, discographic and television productions.
